CROSS MARKS (X.)
Look out for cross marks on your paper. This indicates the expiration of your subscription. We are compelled to adhere to our rule of payment in advance. We hope you will renew without delay.

A PRESSURE.—There is such a pressure on our advertising columns this week that much interesting matter is crowded out. After another week or two our readers will be furnished with the usual variety.

AGRICULTURAL REPORT.—We are indebted to our friend, Maj. ALLMAN, for a copy of the "Monthly Report of the Agricultural Department for July, 1888," which contains valuable and interesting statistics.

COLUMBIA ATHLETIC.—This old and popular institution will be reopened on the first Monday in September, under the direction of Mrs. F. G. SMITH, widow of the late lamented Rector. We invite attention to the advertisement.

Wonder why Gov. Brownlow has not appointed a Commissioner of Registration for this county? Does he intend to leave us out entirely, or is it difficult to find a man in this good old county base enough to do his dirty work.

ALLISON BROTHERS.—It will be seen by reference to the card of the above firm, that our young friend, CHAS. BUFORD, is now connected with it. The Brothers Allison have made a good selection—and we hope the benefits may be mutual.

FIRST COTTON BOLL.—We owe our energetic and handsome young friend, CLAY CROW, an apology. He brought us a cotton boll fully open and mature on the 6th inst., and we should have mentioned the fact last week. It was the first boll in the county, and perhaps in the State. He should have had the credit earlier. The accompaniments to the boll were superb.

EPISCOPAL VISITATION.—We understand that the health of the Bishop of Tennessee is so far restored as to admit of his resuming the labors of his office, and that he has signified his intention of making a visitation to Pulaski on Sunday next, 19th inst., at which time the rite of confirmation will be administered. The first service will be held on Saturday evening at 7½ o'clock, in the Hall used by the congregation of the Church of the Messiah.

CLEAN UP.—While the people have leisure on their hands it would be well to devote the time to a general cleaning up of their premises, and to assist the corporate authorities in the enforcement of proper sanitary regulations. Some of the alleys and back lots in town are in rather a filthy condition; and they are not likely to improve while the vegetable and melon season lasts. While we have but slight fears of a cholera visit to Pulaski, it would be well to provide against such a contingency, aside from all considerations of the general health of the community.

STILL DRY.—The drought continues, with no immediate prospect of abatement. In portions of this county it will be impossible to make a fourth of the usual crop of corn. Indeed, some farmers inform us that they will not make five bushels to the acre upon lands which usually produce from forty to fifty. The cotton crop is also badly injured. It will have been ten weeks to-morrow since rain of any consequence has fallen in this or any portion of the county south of town. We are glad to learn, however, the northern and northern-eastern portions of the county have suffered but little, and that corn and cotton are both looking well.

MEMPHIS AND PULASKI.—We do not design in this article to compare these two cities—their population and business capacities—but simply to call attention to the card of a very clever and sensible firm in Memphis which invites patronage from Pulaski and Giles county—PARTER, McGENRE & CO. The junior partner of this firm, Mr. R. D. PARTER, has just been visiting relatives and friends here, and from his respectable connections and references, as well as from his antecedents during the war, and his genuine Southern face and demeanor, we judge him to be "to the manor born," and worthy of confidence and patronage.

LAWYERS.—We advise all men to keep out of the clutches of lawyers, but we know that all men are not going to do it. We therefore suggest to litigants the importance of consulting our advertising columns if they want to employ the best legal talent. We especially refer our readers this week to the card of our friend JOHN S. WILKES, who proposes to practice in our courts. We are satisfied that a cause in his hands would not suffer for the want of close study and prompt attention.

Female School in Pulaski.

Mrs. MOONEY will open a School on the first Monday in September, for the education of young ladies, in which instruction will be given in all branches of education. Our daughters may be as thoroughly instructed at this school as at any other away from home. And just here, let us again remind parents of the advantages to be derived from patronizing schools at home.—In doing so you not only sustain a worthy corps of teachers, and build up home institutions, but you also save money to yourself and to the community. While the object for which your daughter is sent abroad to other schools is accomplished just as well by patronizing this one, you not only have the satisfaction of keeping your child at home, and under teachers you know, but save several hundred dollars annually, and at the same time aid in building up your own town and county.

We have it from reliable authority that $50,000 has been sent abroad from this county the present year for the education of young ladies. This amount of money would have built us a magnificent College and secured the services of a competent corps of teachers. Then let us patronize home institutions, and with the next fifty thousand dollars we have to spare, build a college of our own.

There is one serious disadvantage which Mrs. Mooney and other teachers labor under in this place. There is not a school-house, academy, or college building in Pulaski! This is a humiliating announcement to make to the world, but it is true, and as parents who have the means to build academies continue to ignore the schools at home and patronize those abroad, we may not expect much improvement soon.

We wish to call the attention of the citizens and public generally to the Magic Oil just introduced in our midst. This wonderful oil will cure all kinds of pains and diseases in a short time. Every family should have some, as it is a preventative of all pains and diseases as well as a cure. For sale by M. M. CLOON, Tennessee House, at every Drug store. M. M. CLOON.

Five fatal cases of cholera are reported in Memphis. The general health of the city is unusually good.

CEDAR BLUFF FEMALE COLLEGE.

THE members of the community in which the College is located are sufficiently acquainted with its history, progress and prospects. A brief statement, however, may be required for the benefit of those whose residence is more remote. The College is three miles South-east of Woodburn, a village on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, midway between Bowling Green and Frankfort, Ky. It is situated upon a high point of ground, commanding a pleasant view and beautiful prospect, in a remarkably healthy portion of the country, sufficiently retired to secure quiet and freedom from all disturbing causes, abundantly supplied with pure water and comprising all the facilities for exercise and enjoyment pertaining to country life. The healthfulness, morality, enterprise and advancement of the institution are fully established. As it has increased in public favor more extensive accommodations were demanded, and the buildings have therefore been enlarged, and an additional number of boarders can be received and accommodated. The discipline is mild, yet thorough and efficient. The law of kindness is the law of the institution, and no harsh or extreme measures will ever be resorted to, unless the conduct of the pupil should require such a course. But in no case will a member be permitted to remain, who is ungovernable, or whose influence on her companions is injurious. The penalties are: Admonition and reproof, suspension for repeated offenses, and expulsion in the last extremity.

It is the purpose of the Faculty to promote a thorough, rather than a superficial education, and to give careful attention to proper exercise and recreation on the part of the pupils, that health may not suffer while the mind is profiting, and is also an important object while endeavoring to increase the mental vigor of the pupils, and add to their stores of knowledge, to cultivate that grace of manner, propriety of taste, and amiability of disposition, which characterize well bred and well informed ladies, and which will entitle them to the respect of refined and cultivated society.

The family and teachers reside in the same building with the pupils. This favors the exercise of that care and solicitude of which young ladies should not be deprived while absent from the parental roof. The school is strictly select, which effectually prevents the miscellaneous association so common in public schools. All the boarders are considered as members of the family and as such are cared for and controlled. For the ensuing term the number of pupils will be limited to fifty.

Regulations for Boarding Pupils.
The rooms of the young ladies are furnished, and supplied with water, fuel and lights; but they are required to keep their rooms clean and in good order. The pupils are required to prepare lessons during the appointed hours, at night and morning.

The signal for retiring is given at half past nine o'clock p. m. Thirty minutes after that time, no lights are permitted in the rooms.

In the morning all are required to rise at the ringing of the bell.

The young ladies are not permitted to attend during the session, any party or place of amusement, incompatible with habits of study; to receive the attentions of young gentlemen while they remain students of the institution; to visit any stores or confectioneries without being accompanied by their teachers or parents; to open accounts at any store without written permission from their parents or guardians; to leave the college premises without being accompanied by a teacher or some relative of their own family. Day pupils are required to bring a note in case of absence, tardiness, or when permission is desired to leave before the regular time, to leave the institution in a quiet and orderly manner immediately upon dismissal; to conform in other respects to the rules and regulations for the internal government of the institution. No deduction made in board or tuition for voluntary absence.

Sessions.
The scholastic year commences on the first Monday in September, and is divided into two sessions of twenty weeks each, without any intervening vacation; thus giving a term of forty weeks, and allowing ample vacation in the hot season of the year.
